

EPSCO Group partners with Star International to expand marine services in UK

Combining our strengths to deliver unparalleled value to vessels in the UK

This collaboration marks a significant expansion of both companies' service offerings and geographical reach.

Under this agreement, Star International will deliver the following services:

- Marine safety and firefighting equipment maintenance
- Marine fuel testing
- Marine refrigeration
- HVAC services and supplies
- Davit maintenance and repair

Star's Director, Paul Antley, commented: "We are thrilled to join forces with EPSCO, a respected name in the maritime industry.

"This partnership underscores both Star's and EPSCO's dedication to providing critical services that enhance safety, efficiency, and compliance in the maritime industry. Our shared commitment to excellence and customer-focused solutions makes this collaboration a natural fit."

EPSCO Owner, Andreas Ioannou, added: “Partnering with Star International further strengthens our ability to serve our international customers. Their reputation for quality and reliability aligns perfectly with our mission to provide top-tier support to the maritime sector.

“Our customers will continue to benefit from a comprehensive range of essential services, delivered with the same expertise and efficiency they’ve come to expect from EPSCO, further enhanced by this collaboration.”
